Business soars, so do needs

Bay St. Louis' business activity continues to soar upward according to the June issue of Mississippi Business Review published by Mississippi State University. Using its index with 1956-58 equalling 100 Bay St. Louis rose to 275 in April, more than 100 above neighboring Mississippi cities. (Waveland figures are not shown). It even passed Pascagoula and Mendenhall, consistently leaders on the index.

All this is fine and good from the cash register standpoint, but it makes us wonder if our county and two municipalities are ready for the growth that can be ours. Some major steps have been taken by the two cities both in regulations, such as zoning, and in providing better public utilities. In the fall it is expected the two will vote on school bonds.

In the county less definite action of this type has been taken, and on the negative side is the voter's refusal to approve a bond issue for school improvement. Last week the supervisors did adopt regulations dealing with sewerage disposal from trailers, but proposed subdivision regulations are still hanging fire.

Subdivision regulations are but one of many problems the supervisors will have to cope with but here the preliminary work may have been done. At least a proposed ordinance has been prepared.

When an earlier public hearing on these regulations conflicted with a meeting on the Bay's utility improvement bonds, the supervisors said they would hold another public airing on the subdivision regulations. Isn't it about time we get on with this matter?

The Mississippi Legislature POLITICOS SPEAK

BY RALPH SOWELL JR.

Gov. Paul Johnson has delayed the recall date for the special session of the legislature which is to consider private school legislation.

Originally set for June 17, it has been reassigned to June 23 because the committee named to draft bills to submit to the special session needs additional time to prepare the necessary legislation.

The 15-man study committee, headed by Governor Johnson, consists of two sub-committees.

Rep. Thompson McCallan of West Point heads the drafting sub-committee which consists of Sen. Jack Tucker of Tunica; Sen. Edwin Pittman of Hattiesburg; Rep. Irby Turner of Belzoni; Rep. Joe Moss of Hinds; and Rep. Walter Phillips of Bay St. Louis.

Rep. Jimmy Morrow of Rankin is directing the finance sub-committee, which is composed of Sen. Jim Buck Ross of Pearl River and Sen. Herman DeCell of Yazoo, and Sen. Corbett Partridge of Schriber.

Other members are Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, House Speaker Walker Sillers, State Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson, and Supt. of Education Jack Tubbs.

Governor Johnson made the news again last week when he stamped a veto on the controversial liquor bill passed by the Legislature. In rendering his decision, he said the measure, as passed, was unfair. He said he might offer the legislators another opportunity to act on the matter when called into special session.

The bill, calling for a statewide referendum, was hastily passed in the dying hours of the regular session, and both sides have agreed that the bill is unclear in several places.

Governor's program

Taking a look at the results of Governor Johnson's program, and how it fared in the regular session, a safe statement would be that he got "almost everything he wanted."

In fact, even though the Governor was mum, except for two addresses to the solons, generally all of his program was accomplished except for his plan to "bury Republicanism for another 100 years."

This plank in the governor's program was probably second only to his wishes for a state police force, but the House was unwilling to accept the cornerstone provisions of the bill which would have made it difficult for the growing Republican Party to live.

Johnson got his extra 200 patrolmen, though, and with the extra forces, was also given the power to use them like a state police force to go into areas where racial violence threatens. Much of the governor's wishes were centered around economic development and an organized research program, which was realized in the creation of a Mississippi Research and Development Center.

Other parts of the program included a vocational and technical training program; a marketing council; an expanded animal disease diagnostic clinic; and several revolving funds for employment training and industrial feasibility studies.

Johnson also received a new State Park Commission and revamping of the system. And a legislative committee was set up to study any "waste" in state governmental spending or employment.

All in all, then the governor's program was successful.

out of just about everything possible.

The board also gave tentative approval to the roster of bus drivers submitted by L&N for 1964-65 subject to their satisfaction with the completion of the driver training course this week at Bay State School. The approval is to be given a final check by the board before the new school year begins.

At a meeting at 7 p.m. at the Bay State School, the board of education will be held at a conference in Pascagoula that day but had informed the county system pays the Bay schools for educating county students was presented by J.D. McCulloch, superintendent of the Bay system. Actual cost is $108 per pupil, he declared. Between 75 and 80 white students are being educated in the Bay schools and about 200 Negro students, about 150 of them in the elementary grades.

"In comparison with what these children are getting, we (the county system) could not begin to pay for that kind of education," Lader observed.

E. P. Ortiz, the board president, noted Walter J. Phillips, attorney for the board, was at a conference in Pascagoula that day but had informed ECHO HEADLINES MAKE THE COVER - Recognize some of these headlines? They've appeared in Sea Coast Echo over last 18 months as impact of Mississippi Test Operations increased and were assembled by The American Press, national newspaper trade magazine, as cover for its June issue which featured article on Echo and role of Hancock County and this newspaper in space program. American Press editor-publisher Mike Michael of Wilmette, Ill., was in Bay St. Louis Easter weekend to interview Echo publisher Powell Glass, Jr., on material for story.

On assessments Our readers write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
 After seeing the Sales Assessment Ratio Study published in your paper and reading your editorial comment thereon, I wrote to the Mississippi Economic Council requesting a copy of the study. When I received my copy I could still not determine how the value of timber and the value of minerals or mineral rights were deducted from the sales price of the land used to arrive at the sales assessment ratio. I believe that you will agree that these values would have to be deducted from the sale value since timber and minerals under Mississippi law are not assessable.

I wrote the Mississippi Economic Council requesting information on this point and have received their answer which is as follows:

"We discussed the matters which you mentioned in your letter with the staff of the University of Mississippi before the study was undertaken to make sure that they were aware of the special provisions of the law regarding minerals and timber. No sales were used which consisted of minerals or timber only. If there was any evidence that the land was timberland or used for growing commercial timber, the transaction was unacceptable for use in the study since it would be difficult to segregate the part him he would have a full financial report ready for this coming Sunday and requested a decision on McCulloch's request be delayed until then. Powell inquired about teachers who need summer work to raise their certificate levels, emphasizing benefits to the teacher and to the pupil from that.

After a careful check of the telephone bills, the board approved a salary totaling $5,807.75.

Trinity issued a request from Mother Regis, superior at St. Joseph Academy, for use of county buses to transport children from SJA camp to riding stables. She reported last year buses were furnished but the driver paid the driver's salary plus 21 cents a mile.

Victor Green, Jr., was elected president of the Trinity Catholic Youth Organization for the year ending June 30. He was elected at a meeting last Thursday at St. John's Parish Hall.

Other officers named were Randolph J. Lader, vice president; Melva Dean McCord, secretary; and Marie Lader, treasurer. Committee chairman will be John Bordages, entertainment, and Carl Lader, reporting.

The group will meet at 7 p.m. each Thursday at St. John's in Lakeshire.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES - Rev. Percy Byrnes of Long Beach, checks service plans with Mrs. Ruth Ketchum, organist, before starting his first service Sunday as new pastor of Wave-land Methodist Church.

New pharmacist

Well gals, another new bachelor in town. He's Sidney R. Gremillion, Fahey Drug's brand new pharmacist. He's the son of Mrs. Irene Gremillion of Gulfport and plans to move here as soon as he finds suitable lodgings. Other vital statistics: he's 23, received his B.S. May 31 from the University of Mississippi, a Beta Theta Pi and a member of Kappa Psi professional fraternity, the Mississippi State and American Pharmaceutical Assn.'s and the Newman Club.

Kiki and Eddie Carrere and children have arrived and settled down in Waveland for the summer.

Kate and Roy Saux had as weekend house guests Jan and Wayne Mack, and apparently the foursome had one heck of a good time. Lots of bootie knitters around including Julia (Mrs. Luke) Caruso, Betty (Mrs. Jimmy) Chincich and Linda (Mrs. Richard) Fayard. Incidentally Linda and Richard celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, June 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alcolin and children Joe and Ann are spending a week's vacation at their St. Jude Street home. Mrs. W.E. Warren and son Bill have just returned from a visit to the World Fair.

Happy birthday wishes are on the way to Ed Fayard, who was '38', (he likes to be different) on June 6.

Get well wishes go to little Marian Fayard, Jr., who is recuperating from eye surgery performed at Gulfport Memorial last week.

Lots of activity in the Fayard family. . . Marilyn (Mrs. Kenny) Fayard cut her birthday cake on the 17th.

descended on Baptist Hospital at 12:30 Monday bringing Pat and Gene Watkins second daughter, Louise and Joe Wymer are the jubilant grandparents. Louise is also admiring three night blooming cereus blossoms. And we'll have to send get well wishes to the Wymer's lovely pup, Princess. Princess has been under treatment for lock jaw.

Mrs. F. Lloyd Monroe entertained at a luncheon honoring her aunt, Mrs. Edward P. Phillips at her New Orleans home last Friday. Guests were Mrs. Jack Jordan of Pensacola, Fla., Mrs. John Middleton of Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Horace P. Phillips of New Orleans and Mrs. Monroe's daughters, Mrs. Walter F. Wolfe, the former Marilyn P. Monroe, who is attending Tulane where she's studying for her masters in French and Misses Dorothy and Betsy Monroe. Dorothy leaves Friday for Harvard where she'll resume studies toward her master's in geology.

Sorry girls. . . Bill's cousin bachelor temporary manager was here for just a little over a week. . . we want to welcome the permanent manager Byron Springer, a native of Springer, who is very much married and will move his family here after Mrs. Springer gives birth to

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

"The Bay's most unusual store"

In Mississippi... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst is whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Mississippi... beer goes with fun, with relaxation
